

Humanist Lecture/Discussion

A HUMANIST VIEW OF THE GOV. SPITZER AFFAIR

Friday, April 18, 2008 7:00 - 9:30 P.M.

Hundreds if not thousands of prominent personalities have been suddenly propelled into the cruel and glaring limelight of the media because of inappropriate intimacies or violations of the law.

Popular culture, which is on one hand highly moralistic but on the other hand crudely amoral, provides an easy stage for public inquisition.

How would humanistic psychologists and sexologists like Freud, Reich, Ellis, Preston, Dodson and others view the sexual tragedy that plays havoc in the lives of people such as the N.Y. Governor Spitzer, or the former U.S. President Clinton.

This will be a dispassionate, humane and realistic presentation and discussion of this pathetic issue.

Speaker and moderator, Reverend Joseph Ben-David is a humanist counselor, specializing in inter-personal relations and the Senior Minister of the Church of Humanism. He is also an ordained Unitarian Minister in the Czech Republic and a professional member of the Association for Humanistic Psychology.

Sponsored by the Humanist Foundation

Held at: The Fourth Universalist Society

4 West 76 St., corner Central Park West, New York City

Information: 212-877-5662
